Sajjad is a former city solicitor who practised as a Commercial and Media Litigator at D J Freeman before transferring to the Bar in 2003.

HIS PRACTICE NOW COMPRISES:

Commercial Litigation: Sajjad has been instructed in a variety of disputes, whether litigated in the County Court or High Court, ranging from construction, supply of goods and services and agency to professional negligence.

Property and Chancery Litigation: Sajjad has extensive experience of acting in property related disputes, with a particular specialism in claims brought by co-habiting partners under the Trusts of Land and Appointment of Trustees Act 1996. He has acted in both sole name and joint names cases and further in parent/child disputes involving allegations of undue influence, duress and/or gift.

Landlord and Tenant: Sajjad acts for both landlords and tenants, in claims ranging from possession and unlawful eviction to those involving allegations of anti-social behaviour and harassment.

Sajjad is qualified under the Direct Public Access to Barristers scheme and will accept direct instructions in suitable cases.

WHAT CLIENTS SAY:

"I first "inherited" Sajjad in 2010 when I came into a case at a very late stage. I was very impressed with his thorough preparation, knowledge of the papers and stellar performance at Trial which enabled us to negotiate a settlement after the first day of his cross examination of the witness. Since then, the entire firm at Moreland & Co now regularly instructs Sajjad on a number of matters achieving excellent results consistently.

We have found Sajjad to be an excellent legal specialist, extremely reliable, friendly and thorough in all aspects of his work. He is professional, commercially astute, yet approachable and compassionate towards the clients, adopting a practical and often realistic approach.

Sajjad has proved an invaluable asset to Moreland & Co over the last 4 years and we hope to continue to build that relationship. Anyone who is looking to instruct him on a matter will be in safe hands. We have no hesitation in recommending him to other solicitors and/or clients and indeed have done so on many occasions."

Danny Dionissiou, Managing Director, Moreland & Co Solicitors

"As Head of my firm's Civil and Family Department, my colleagues and I have regularly over several years instructed Sajjad, knowing that we will obtain an excellent service of competence and efficiency. Sajjad has been instructed on complex matters and has the ability to relate to clients and identify the main issues of a case very quickly.

Sajjad is always approachable and ready to provide advice and guidance whenever it is required. I have no hesitation in recommending Sajjad's services to any of my clients knowing that they can be assured of a quality service."

Andrew Symeou, Director, Faradays Solicitors

"Mr Nabi went above and beyond his professional requirements to help and accommodate me; truly an outstanding barrister. He makes the process understandable, calmer and the seemingly unachievable, achievable". "
